

Dear Havenlabs Community,

I would like to start by saying thank you for your incredible and heartfelt support in regards to our latest Utility Gauntlet design. Our team would not be able to do this without you and we hope to see your continued involvement in the creation of new utilities for our version 1.0.

Havenlabs is much more than just 3D printing, but about helping to change the world around us. Together, we can use this technology as a vehicle to not only help humanity, but to also generate positivity for others. By just helping one person in need, this would have all been a success. This organization started out of a college dorm room and is slowly reaching people all over the world. I hope this can help to change someone's life and show them that you do not need excess amounts of wealth to make change, only love in your heart. The men and women in our military have sacrificed so much over the course of their service and we believe this is the least we could do for our veteran amputees.

Again, thank you so much and we hope to make a true difference in the world with your support.

Best,

River Haven Castelonia
